FINN FESTIVAL - OFFICIAL PROGRAMME

MAY 4 - 18 2012

You invest your weekends, your vocal chords and your nerves.

At least your ISA can always be with a winning team*.

Being a sailor takes a lot of commitment. Not to mention a good pair of lungs and an appetite for tension. Minus the shouting, investing isn't that different. J.P. Morgan's wide range of investment products are designed to perform as part of any financial game plan.

*J.P. Morgan are the proud winners of the Gold Standard Award for the ninth successive year.

The value of investments and the income from them may fall as well as rise and investors may not get back the full amount invested. Past performance is not a guide to the future.

- ▶ Invest from £50 a month or a £500 lump sum
- ▶ Search 'J.P. Morgan ISA' or call 0800 092 660.

Whatever you invest

Please note our telephone lines are open from Monday to Friday, 9am to 5.30pm and may be recorded and monitored for security and training purposes. Issued by J.P. Morgan Asset Management Marketing Limited which is authorised and regulated in the UK by the Financial Services Authority. Registered in England No. 288553. Registered office: 125 London Wall, London EC2Y 5AJ.

Welcome...

Dear Competitors,

It gives me great pleasure on behalf of the Royal Cornwall Yacht Club to welcome you and your support teams to the J.P. Morgan Asset Management Finn Festival.

Falmouth and Cornwall are delighted to receive so many visitors from around the world who will be enjoying our fantastic sailing waters and Cornish hospitality.

The RCYC has a history of running a wide range of world class sailing events and our team of experienced volunteers are looking forward to hosting this prestigious festival which will be sailed by the elite of the dinghy sailing world.

Without the our generous sponsors none of this would have been possible, so I would like to take this opportunity to thank them all, also to thank the Port of Falmouth Sailing Association sailing clubs for their support and all other organisations who have made this event possible.

It was Andy Tyler's vision and enthusiasm five years ago which enabled us to arrive at this exciting event and it is with great sorrow that he is not here to enjoy it. The event teams led by Robin Taylor have worked tirelessly to make the event happen and I would like to thank them all.

May I wish all the competitors good luck and sincerely hope that you will use our club as your own and enjoy the amenities it has to offer.

Good sailing

Peter Collett - Commodore
Director RCYC Events Ltd

The Royal Cornwall Yacht Club

Its traditions, values and history

Situated in the idyllic waterfront setting of the Greenbank area in Falmouth, the Royal Cornwall Yacht Club (RCYC) was formed in 1871, and is the 15th oldest "Royal" yacht club in England. The first patrons of the club were Queen Victoria and the Duke of Cornwall (the future King Edward VII). The current patron is HRH Prince Charles who succeeded his father, the Duke of Edinburgh, in 1977.

Falmouth has long been a venue for major regattas, and the club has been instrumental in organising major sailing events since before the Second World War. Large yachts of the J-Class visited in the 1930s, and the Club is looking forward to welcoming them back in 2012.

The Falmouth Sunbeam has sailed in Falmouth since 1924. The class will celebrate its 90th anniversary in 2013-2014. It provides top class one design racing, and the fleet in Falmouth is thriving.

A great opportunity

On behalf of the Town Council and people of Falmouth I wish the J.P. Morgan Asset Management Finn Festival every success for this world class yachting event. This is a wonderful opportunity for our town to show off its fantastic maritime heritage and facilities. Falmouth Bay and coastline will provide competitors with spectacular racing conditions while spectators will have a wide choice of stunning view points to choose from.

It's a great privilege for Falmouth to host the Finn Gold Cup as Falmouth has superb sailing waters with well organised sailing clubs and a vibrant and supportive community that make it an ideal venue for this sailing event.

The Finn Gold Cup regatta will be finishing the day before the Olympic Torch Relay comes to Falmouth, which is extremely fortunate as people can stay on to see the torch go through the town.

The Town Council helped to secure Falmouth as a venue by providing the event with financial backing through grant funding.

I look forward to welcoming participants, supporters and visitors alike to our town, and of course thank everyone involved in the organisation of this key event. Here's to a successful regatta!

Yours sincerely
Councillor Geoffrey Evans C.C
Mayor of Falmouth

Cornwall Council is pleased to offer its support to the J.P. Morgan Asset Management Finn Festival and wishes the event every success. The festival provides an opportunity for the council to contribute to the long term regeneration of Cornwall by the use of one of its greatest competitive advantages...its waters.

The world's press will be focussed on Cornwall in May this year as we host the Finn Festival, welcoming up to 25 nations and 120 of the world's top sailors to this Olympic qualifying event in Falmouth. We look forward to hosting the competitors, their support teams and the international jury during this high profile, world class sailing event.

Cornwall has also been chosen to host day one of the Olympic Torch Relay as it starts its journey around the UK, finishing in London for the start of the London 2012 Olympic Games. Both events give us the unique opportunity to showcase Cornwall as an ideal 21st century business environment with a quality of life unmatched elsewhere in the UK. Our reputation is growing into a centre for innovative knowledge based businesses, thanks to developments such as superfast broadband, renewable energies, the Cornwall and Isles of Scilly Local Enterprise Partnership, with leading edge training and skills facilities including the Combined Universities Cornwall and Peninsular Medical School.

Yours sincerely
Alec Robertson
Leader of Cornwall Council

A warm welcome to Falmouth's Finn Festival

Cornwall is the country's favourite holiday destination due to its natural beauty, its culture and our open and friendly manner. We have tremendous levels of repeat business with almost half of our visitors coming every year and 90% having been here in the last five years.

One of the reasons for these repeat visits is due to people coming to pursue their interests, hobbies, sports and passions - with sailing and water sports being a major draw as we have some of the best sailing waters in Europe.

We have ports, harbours, great bays, estuaries and rivers to explore as well as great venues and waters for world class racing from dinghies to superyachts and that is why we are delighted to host the Finn Nationals and Gold Cup, considered one of the signature events in the sailing calendar. We welcome all competitors, support crews as well as spectators and wish you a great stay and lifelong memories and look forward to seeing you return to our wonderful county time and time again in the future.

Malcolm Bell, Head of VisitCornwall,
Cornwall Development Company

It gives me great pleasure to welcome you to the historic port of Falmouth for the J.P. Morgan Asset Management Finn Festival, which is sure to be the highlight of a very busy year of on the water events in Falmouth.

With a long and colourful history hosting world class sailing events, Falmouth provides the ideal destination for this prestigious international competition. As well as some of the best sailing waters in the UK, our vibrant town is proud to show off superb shoreside facilities to match, as well as a vast array of expertise both on and off the water.

As one of the official supporting partners of the festival, Falmouth Harbour Commissioners are delighted to donate the use of the Grove Place Boat Park for the duration of the event. We will also play a major role ensuring sailors competing in the festival remain safe.

I would like to take this opportunity to pay tribute to the great efforts of everyone who has made it possible to bring this truly breathtaking event to our shores. It is an honour to support these elite sailors, their teams, the press and spectators and to give the town the chance to demonstrate its full potential. Such events are a privilege for any town to host and we are all looking forward to the chance to show off our magnificent, vibrant port on a world stage once again.

David Ellis, Chairman of Falmouth Harbour Commissioners.

Event promises to be one of the very best

On behalf of the British Finn Association it gives me enormous pleasure to welcome you to the Falmouth Finn Festival, the J.P. Morgan Asset Management Finn Gold Cup and UK Open Finn Nationals.

The Finn Gold Cup is the most prestigious prize in the Finn circuit and this attracts attention from the elite sailors of the worldwide fleet. It is anticipated that this will create a great deal of media attention, with all eyes being on Falmouth for this period of time.

As an Association we are delighted that the Finn Gold Cup will be returning to the UK shores. The cup originated in Burnham-on-Crouch in 1956, when 12 countries competed, and since then it has returned a couple of times to the UK shores, the last being in 2000 at Weymouth, when 89 boats took part in the Gold Cup and 80 boats competed in the Nationals.

It is anticipated that Falmouth will break all the records for attendance, as the countries warm themselves up, for what could be the last event before the Olympic Games in July and August.

I am greatly appreciative for all the hard work by the Royal Cornwall Yacht Club and for all the sponsors that have given so much to enable this event to come to fruition.

Andy Denison
Chairman, British Finn Association

It is my great pleasure to greet to you on behalf of the Executive Committee of the International Finn Association (IFA) on the occasion of the 2012 J.P. Morgan Asset Management Finn Gold Cup hosted by the Royal Cornwall Yacht Club, the British Finn Association and IFA.

Previous years have shown that the Olympic Finn class is getting stronger than ever in terms of fleet sizes as well as competing countries and continents in all age categories, be it our junior, senior or masters fleets. At our major championships the class today has a very solid international senior fleet of 80-100 entries from around 30 countries per event, an increasing junior fleet (around 40-50 sailors at Silver Cups) and a formidable Masters fleet comprising of around 300 sailors at almost every Masters Worlds. Similar developments can be identified at both national and continental levels.

Finn Gold Cups are usually the season's pinnacle events. This is even truer for the Falmouth Finn Festival 2012 with the Olympics coming up in just a few months in the neighbourhood of Falmouth.

On behalf of the IFA Executive Committee I wish the Finn sailors fair sailing on the waters off Falmouth, and the organisers a successful event.

Dr Balazs Hajdu, HUN-1
IFA President, ISAF Committee Member

Welcome from J.P. Morgan

J.P. Morgan is proud to be title sponsor of the Falmouth Finn Festival. We're looking forward to watching the very best Finn sailors battle it out to be crowned World Champion. To add to the excitement this is one of the last opportunities to see potential Olympic champions in action with a number of sailors competing to qualify for London 2012.

We're passionate about sailing as it allows us to support values that are important to our business. To be successful at sailing you need excellent teamwork, innovative thinking, leadership and passion, just some of our key values. We are proud sponsors of the Round the Island Race and Ben Ainslie who we wish the best of luck both in Falmouth and Weymouth.

Huge amounts of work go on behind the scenes and the event simply wouldn't have happened without the professionalism of the Royal Cornwall Yacht Club. A huge thank you to everyone involved.

On behalf of us all at J.P. Morgan, we wish all the sailors the very best of luck and hope you enjoy the Festival.

Roger Thompson, Head of UK, J.P. Morgan Asset Management

Rick Stein

Discovery Quay,
Event Square, Falmouth

Rick Stein's Fish

serves cod and haddock together with a variety of local fish like hake, monkfish, John Dory and bass in batter and deep fried in beef dripping to make it really crisp. There's also roasted fish from our charcoal oven which gives a delicious barbequed flavour alongside homemade chips, curry sauce, mushy peas and our mayonnaise-based tartare sauce.

Rick Stein's Seafood Bar

is located above Rick Stein's Fish. Head Chef Paul Ripley is running a sort of seafood tapas menu, with such things as Scallops with Guindillo Peppers and Chorizo, Creamed Leeks and Smoked Haddock on Toast and a Cornish Fish Stew. You can sit at the bar and watch him cook while you eat, or book a table.

Stein's Deli

has a range of freshly baked bread, pasties, sandwiches, pastries and cakes. We stock ingredients such as homemade mayonnaise, curry pastes, hummus and pesto, alongside quality produce like Tywardreath sausages, Maynards Farm bacon and Inverawe smoked salmon. The deli also sells a range of Rick Stein branded products including books, CDs and DVDs, wines, jams and chutneys.

ST AUSTELL BREWERY

Steeped in Maritime history

Welcome to maritime Falmouth, steeped in vibrant maritime history. Its strategic location led to the town being established as the southernmost packet ship port in the UK. The harbour has retained its maritime importance as the start and finish of many a transatlantic voyage, and regularly hosts national and local sailing events.

The port is famous for welcoming Tall Ships to its waters whilst Falmouth Bay and Carrick Roads offer first class sheltered waters for sailing and diving. A network of passenger ferries travel to Trelissick and Truro, St Mawes and Helford, to explore the area by water. The port has the third deepest natural harbour in the world, and offers wharves for visiting cruise liners, marina and berthing facilities for the yachtsman and tuition and hire facilities for those new to watersports.

For over a century Cornish families have derived their livelihood from oyster dredging in the Carrick Roads and surrounding rivers. Many of the oyster boats, known as Falmouth Working Boats, were built at boatyards around the Fal, with some of the oldest boats in the Oyster Fishery dating back as far as 1860. During the summer months, the Working Boats may be seen racing in the Carrick Roads, and at many regattas in the county. The racing rig is far larger than the rig used for fishing, and these gracious vessels create a truly magnificent spectacle as they race at close quarters under full sail.

Today the port is a leader in marine industry with A & P Falmouth at Falmouth Docks who offer global leadership in ship repair, ship conversion and marine services. Large ferries and naval ships are regular visitors to the port, whilst Pendennis Shipyard, world renowned superyacht builders, specialise in refit projects and new build yachts. In 2012 the biennial Pendennis Cup will see a fleet of 14 superyachts come to Falmouth Bay for 4 days of challenging racing, at the beginning of July.

Falmouth's bustling town centre has many art galleries, specialist outlets, antique shops and well known high street names as well as an abundance of cafés, restaurants offering a selection of worldwide and traditional Cornish cuisine and a choice of accommodation to suit all tastes.

The wooded countryside, sheltered beaches and coves of the area hold such significance they have been designated an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty. Sandy family beaches include the town beach of Gyllyngvase which holds a Blue Flag. The twin castles of Pendennis and St Mawes, built by Henry VIII and now managed by English Heritage, guard the entrance to one of the finest natural harbours in the world.

The maritime theme continues with the National Maritime Museum Cornwall which houses the nation's small boat collection, with breathtaking views from its 29metre tower. The museum is hosting the 'Sail for Gold' exhibition celebrating Great Britain's place as the world's most successful Olympic and Paralympic sailing nation which is running throughout the J.P. Morgan Asset Management Finn Festival.

Falmouth has a host of attractions including the Princess Pavilion Theatre and The Poly arts venue, the Falmouth Art Gallery, winner of the Guardian's 'Family Friendly Museum' award, and Ships and Castles Leisure Centre perched high on Pendennis Headland. The town's gardens provide green tranquil spaces with plant species brought back from around the world by Packet Ship Captains.

The Andy Tyler Memorial Trophy

The event also commemorates the life of Andy Tyler, who was the driving force in bringing the J P Morgan Asset Management Finn Festival to Falmouth. Sadly Andy passed away last year, but worked tirelessly to bring the event to Cornish waters so that the people of Cornwall could witness the sport that he so loved, at an elite level. Andy was passionate about sailing and had grand plans for the Festival – this prestigious event will be a fitting tribute to Andy's inspirational vision.

The Andy Tyler Memorial Trophy will be presented by Andy's partner to the sailor who the Organising Committee considers has shown the greatest sporting effort during the week.

THE A TEAM

The Finn Festival has been three years in the planning and execution and without a massive amount of support from all our sponsors and partners it would not have happened.

We also are deeply indebted to our magnificent team of volunteers who have given up their time to make this event happen. Over 150 individuals from the RCYC, POFSA, Falmouth Marine College and many other organisations have formed an amazing team. We have members of the race team who have come from all over the world to ensure that the competition is of the highest standard and we thank them for their involvement.

On behalf of the organising committee and competitors we would like to pass on our sincere thanks for the help from everyone and hope you thoroughly enjoy the Festival.

Robin Taylor, Event Director

History of the Finn Gold Cup

The Finn Gold Cup was presented to the International Finn Association (IFA) in 1956 by the late F.G. Mitchell of the Royal Corinthian Yacht Club, Great Britain, and became the World Championship trophy for the class. The Gold Cup is the most important part of the history of the class. The foundation of the IFA on August 23, 1956 in Loosdrecht, Holland was strongly influenced by the first Gold Cup March 1956 in Burnham-on-Crouch, England.

The late Jorg Bruder of Brazil won the cup three times. In 1973 while en route to defend his title in France, he was killed in an air crash and the original cup was lost. Somms Marine of France presented a replica of the original cup to the Finn Class in 1975, which is used today to represent the highest honour in single-handed racing.

In the beginning there was no limitation of numbers of entries. Because of starting line difficulties in 1961 and 1962, the number of participants in 1963 was first limited to 15 per nation. The rule has been changed and amended several times over the years, but now the number of sailors per nation is directly proportional to the number of members in that country. In 1973 and 1978 the IYRU tried to reduce the number of entries to 60 boats and each time the IFA refused.

In the first five Gold Cups 1956-1960 only wooden boats were allowed. When GRP was permitted in 1961 and plastic boats ended up first, second and third, the class ran into a crisis. Owners of older wooden boats were afraid that their equipment had been outmoded. In addition Arne Akerson won in 1962 with Fred Miller's boat, which Rickard Sarby found to behave very differently from an ordinary Finn in waves. The measurement committee found several kilos of hidden lead in that magic boat, which raised further objections against plastic boats.

Then in 1964 Hubert Raudaschl won in his homebuilt wooden boat. After two years of experimenting with his own GRP development, Willy Kuhweide bought back his old wooden Finn and won the Gold Cup twice. After Raudaschl and Kuhweide, the late Jorg Bruder also used wooden hulls but then in the mid 1970s GRP hulls with soft wooden decks proved to be successful and from the late 1970s full GRP hulls returned to the front of the fleet, dominated firstly by Vanguard, and then later by Devoti.

Outstanding individuals in the history of the Gold Cup are:

Andre Nelis of Belgium won in 1956 and 1961, was second in 1958, 1959 and 1960, and third in 1957 and 1962

Joerg Bruder of Brazil won in 1970, 1971, 1972 and was second in 1969

Willy Kuhweide of FRG three times in 1963, 1966 and 1967

Lasse Hjortnaes of Denmark won in 1982, 1984 and 1985

Fredrik Lööf of Sweden won in 1994, 1997 and 1999

Ben Ainslie of Great Britain won in 2002, 2003, 2004, 2005 and 2008.

Falmouth Watersports Centre

Regatta Centre for the Festival

The Falmouth Watersports Centre (FWC) was built and opened in 1993 to provide a focal point for watersports groups in the Port of Falmouth, with direct access to the public slipway at Grove Place, Falmouth.

The Centre provides a base for the Falmouth Watersports Association and its 10 constituent clubs and organisations, currently with approximately 400 members, covering a wide range of activities from sailing, gig rowing, sliding seat rowing, canoeing and diving to support groups including the Sea Scouts, RNAS Culdrose and Falmouth Marine School. Facilities at the Centre are also available to visitors and non members.

FWC and the Royal Cornwall Yacht Club are extremely grateful to both Midas Construction and EIC Ltd for their generous support in refurbishing the showers and changing facilities at the Centre.

Competitors from around the world will be among the first to make use of the full facilities at FWC which will be the Regatta Centre for the Finn Festival. The generosity of Midas Construction and EIC Ltd will also ensure that there is a legacy after the Finn Festival that can be enjoyed by the many members of the clubs who use the FWC as their base and will benefit future events in Falmouth.

Competitors from around the world

Name: Ben Ainslie (GBR)
Age: 35
World Ranking 29 (Highest 1)
Previous FGC 2011 (11), 2008 (1), 2005 (1), 2004 (1), 2003(1), 2002 (1)
Previous Olympics 2008 (1), 2004 (1), Laser: 2000 (1), 1996(1)
Britain's greatest ever Olympic sailor and the most successful Finn sailor of all time. Only been beaten a handful of times since 2004. Falmouth is home waters for Ben so he will only be looking for a win. Already selected for the 2012 Olympics, which will be his fifth time at the Games.

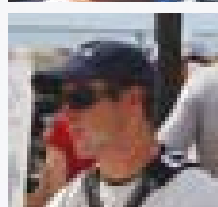

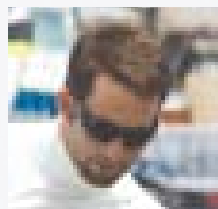

Name: Ed Wright (GBR)
Age: 35
World Ranking 1 (Highest 1)
Previous FGC 2011 (3), 2010 (1), 2009 (6), 2008 (7), 2007 (6), 2005 (26)
Previous Olympics None
After losing out to Ainslie in the 2008 Olympic trials, he came back to win the Finn Gold Cup in 2010 and also won the ISAF Sailing World Cup series in both 2009 and 2010 which took him to number 1 in the world.

Name: Giles Scott (GBR)
Age: 24
World Ranking 8 (Highest 2)
Previous FGC 2011 (1), 2010 (3), 2009 (4) 2008 (14), 2007 (14)
Previous Olympics None
One of Britain's brightest sailing hopes, but lost out to Ainslie for the Olympic selection in 2008 and 2012, so now set his sights on 2016. Won both the Europeans and the World titles in 2011, but second to Ainslie in the Olympic trials.

Name: Andrew Mills (GBR)
Age: 26
World Ranking 14 (Highest 7)
Previous FGC 2011 (7), 2010 (7), 2009 (10), 2008 (27), 2007 (49), 2006 (55)
Previous Olympics None
Another member of the very strong GBR Finn squad who is good enough to qualify to the Olympics in his own right, but has always been overshadowed by Ainslie, Wright and Scott. Very strong and fit sailor, and fastest in strong winds.

Name: Ivan Kijakovic Gaspic (CRO)
Age: 28
World Ranking 2 (Highest 1)
Previous FGC 2011 (10), 2010 (8), 2009 (3) 2008 (10), 2007 (11), 2006 (8), 2005 (18)
Previous Olympics 2008 (8)
European champion in both 2009 and 2010, Kijakovic Gaspic is one of the most consistent sailors on the circuit, and is regularly at the front of international fleets. One of the lighter sailors, he prefers lighter winds, but even in stronger winds can be well into the top 10.

Name: Rafael Trujillo (ESP)
Age: 36
World Ranking 5 (Highest 1)
Previous FGC 2011 (5), 2010 (2), 2009 (8) 2008 (13), 2007 (1), 2006 (5), 2005 (7), 2004 (8), 2003 (2), 2002 (4), 1997 (14)
Previous Olympics 2008 (9), 2004 (2) Star 2000 (8)
One of the most experienced sailors in the Finn fleet. Famously lost the Gold Cup twice on the final day before finally clinching it in 2007. Big, strong sailor who prefers breezy conditions.

Name: Jonas Høgh Christensen (DEN)
Age: 30
World Ranking 17 (Highest 1)
Previous FGC 2011 (4), 2010 (14), 2009 (1) 2008 (3), 2007 (4), 2006 (1), 2005 (12), 2004 (11), 2003 (4)
Previous Olympics 2008 (6), 2004 (9)
After winning the Finn Gold Cup in 2006, he was a clear medal contender at the 2008 Olympics, but performed below his expectations and placed sixth. Then he took a lot of time off, and came back to win the 2009 Finn Gold Cup with very little training. Only started his campaign for 2012 full time in November 2011.

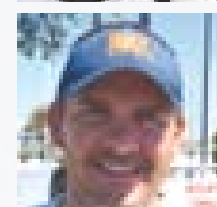

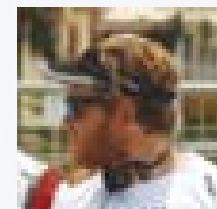

Name: Jonathan Lobert (FRA)
Age: 26
World Ranking 10 (Highest 6)
Previous FGC 2011 (6), 2010 (13), 2009 (19) 2008 (26), 2007 (34)
Previous Olympics None
A silver medal at the Olympic Test Event in 2011 was the culmination of steady progress over the previous few years. Won his selection for the Olympics after the 2011 Finn Gold Cup against training partner Thomas Le Breton (FRA). Very athletic style in the boat, especially downwind.

Name: Pieter Jan Postma (NED)
Age: 29
World Ranking 3 (Highest 2)
Previous FGC 2011 (2), 2010 (20), 2009 (12) 2008 (4), 2007 (2), 2006 (12), 2005 (28)
Previous Olympics 2008 (14)
Postma picked up the silver medal at the Finn Gold Cup and the Pre-Olympics in 2007 and then had a disastrous Olympics in 2008, failing to even make the medal race. After a few years in the wilderness he is now right back in contention with a bronze at the 2011 Olympic test event and a silver at the 2011 Finn Gold Cup. Sailing fast and clever and a clear medal contender through 2012.

Name: Deniss Karpak (EST)
Age: 25
World Ranking 7 (Highest 9)
Previous FGC 2011 (8), 2010 (26), 2009 (17)
Previous Olympics Laser: 2008 (24)
After sailing in the 2008 Olympics in the Laser he moved straight into the Finn and has made steady progress ever since. Yet to medal at a major event, but already qualified for the 2012 Olympics after a great performance in Perth.

Name: Zach Railey (USA)
Age: 27
World Ranking 9 (Highest 1)
Previous FGC 2011 (9), 2010 (4), 2009 (2) 2008 (28), 2007 (19)
Previous Olympics 2008 (2)
His silver medal at the Olympics in 2008 was unexpected by many but he has since proven his calibre on many occasions, including a silver medal at the 2009 Finn Gold Cup.

Name: Daniel Birgmark (SWE)
Age: 39
World Ranking 12 (Highest 4)
Previous FGC 2011 (14), 2010 (12), 2009 (5), 2008 (17), 2007 (8), 2006 (4), 2005 (9),
Previous Olympics 2004 (14), 2008 (4)
Lost the bronze medal at the Olympics in 2008 on the tie break after the medal race, so will be very keen to put that right in 2012. A very consistent, steady and calm sailor who is always there or thereabouts. Best result since 2008 is a bronze medal at the 2010 Europeans.

J-Class Regatta

The Pendennis Cup

Henri Lloyd Falmouth Week

J-Class Regatta

26 – 30 June 2012

The Regatta will be organised by the J-Class Association in conjunction with the Royal Cornwall Yacht Club as the first in a series of spectacular regattas in England in 2012. For the first time in history, at least six of these magnificent 1930s classic yachts will compete together, offering spectators incredible racing and views from the headlands around Falmouth Bay. These boats are around 40 metres (140 ft) in length, weigh 200 tonnes, and require a crew of up to thirty experienced sailors. One on its own looks magnificent but the prospect of having six in Falmouth in fierce competition is truly an event not to be missed!

Website: www.jclassfalmouthregatta.com

The Pendennis Cup

2 – 7 July 2012

2012 will see the return of the prestigious Pendennis Cup, run by local superyacht builders Pendennis Shipyard, with race organisers the Royal Cornwall Yacht Club, with daily competitions taking place against the backdrop of a stunning coastline.

An impressive range of classic and modern sailing yachts will take part in the Pendennis Cup in 2012. The Regatta is organised by Pendennis Shipyard every 2 years and attracts a fleet of superyachts to Falmouth Bay for 4 days of challenging racing. 14 yachts have already signed up, twice as many as the last event in 2010, bringing over 400 crew as well as VIP guests and a wealth of national and international media to Cornwall. The largest is Athos which measures 62 metres. Mariquita, built in 1911, is one of the oldest yachts taking part. Website: www.thependenniscup.co.uk

Henri Lloyd Falmouth Week

12 – 18 August 2012

Henri Lloyd Falmouth Week is an annual sailing regatta involving local sailing clubs and numerous yachting classes and boats from around Carrick Roads.

The Regatta Week has grown into the largest sailing event in the South West with more than 450 yachts racing over eight days along with a lively programme of shore side events. Each day the racing is organised by one of the 7 different sailing and yachting clubs which make up the Port Of Falmouth Sailing Association. The week starts with the Falmouth Classics, which sees around 150 classic yachts racing in Carrick Roads and Falmouth Bay, followed by six days of match racing for keelboats, traditional craft and dinghies in the waters of Falmouth Bay, the Carrick Roads and the harbour.

Ashore there are activities to keep everyone entertained, from a marching carnival and a firework display to themed party nights and samba bands. The town is buzzing with daytime activities throughout the town, while in the evening there is a great line up of music acts in the regatta marquee on Events Square.
